Savitribai Phule Jayanti Celebrated with Grandeur in Karimnagar

BC Yuvajana Sangham Pays Floral Tributes at Telangana Chowk

CHITTIMALLA

MAHENDAR, "KARIMNAGAR CORRESPONDENT, JANUARY 03, INDIAN CHRONICLE : "The birth anniversary of Savitribai Phule, India's first woman teacher and a pioneering social reformer, was celebrated with great enthusiasm under the aegis of the BC Yuvajana Sangham in Karimnagar district. On this occasion, floral tributes were paid to the portrait of Savitribai Phule at Telangana Chowk by the District President of BC Yuvajana Sangham, Mr. Narsingozu Srinivas. "The programme was organised under the leadership of District Vice President Mr. Nallagoni Srinivas. Addressing the gathering, Mr. Narsingozu Srinivas described Savitribai Phule as a legendary figure in Indian social history who dedicated her life to the upliftment of the down-trodden. He recalled that as the wife of Jyotirao Phule, she stood firmly against caste, gender, and religious discrimination, working relentlessly for social equality. "He highlighted that Savitribai Phule strongly believed that women's liberation and social transformation were possible only through modern education. In 1848, she and Jyotirao Phule established the country's first girls' school in Pune, marking a historic milestone in Indian education. Despite facing severe social opposition, humiliation, and discrimination, Savitribai Phule remained steadfast in her mission to promote girls' education and women's empowerment. "Mr. Srinivas further stated that Savitribai Phule's struggle against the caste system and patriarchy, and her fight for the rights of Shudras, the oppressed, and women, continue to inspire present and future generations. He urged students and youth to follow her ideals and contribute towards building an equal and inclusive society. "Several leaders of the BC Yuvajana Sangham paid floral tributes to the portrait of Savitribai Phule, and the programme was conducted in a peaceful and dignified manner. "The event was attended by State Secretary Mr. Umamaheshwar, Organisation Secretary Mr. Lingampalli Srinivas, District Vice President Mr. Nallagoni Srinivas, BC Sangham leaders, students, youth members, and others.

Women's Reservation in Bar Council Welcomed: Advocate G. Subhashini

““Indian Chronicle, “Secunderabad, January 03:“Advocate Gudimalla Subhashini has welcomed the decision to provide 30 percent reservation for women in the Telangana Bar Council, stating that the long-standing struggle undertaken for this cause has finally borne fruit. She said that the positive verdict delivered by the Supreme Court on the intervene petition filed by her has given renewed strength and encouragement.“Speaking to the media, Subhashini, who has been practicing as an advocate for the past 28 years, said that all district bar associations across Telangana extended their full support to this just movement.“She pointed out that the Bar Council of India was established under an Act of Parliament in 1961, but for the past 64 years, women had been denied adequate representation, causing significant injustice to women advocates.“Subhashini stated that the Telangana Bar Council consists of 25 members and that the decision to allocate seats to eight women advocates henceforth is a welcome development. She described the move as a historic milestone that would serve as a model for all states across the country.“Informing that Bar Council elections are scheduled to be held on January 30, she said that she is also contesting in the elections. Around 35,000 advocates are expected to exercise their franchise. Of the 209 nominations filed, 55 are from women advocates, she added.“Stating that she has consistently fought for the issues of advocates and stood by them at all times, Subhashini expressed confidence that she would emerge victorious in the elections with the support and goodwill of the legal fraternity.

Grand Celebration of Savitribai Phule's 195th Birth Anniversary at ST Post-Matric Hostel: Youth Urged to Emulate Her Ideals

Taj Khan, Kaghaznagar, January 3 (Indian Chronicle) Asifabad (Komaram Bheem Asifabad District), January 3, 2026: The 195th birth anniversary of Savitribai Phule, India's pioneering social reformer and first female teacher, was celebrated with great fervour at the Scheduled Tribes (ST) Post-Matric Hostel here on Friday. The event was jointly organised by the Democratic Youth Federation of India (DYFI), Kisan Vidyarthi Parishad Sangh (KVPS), and Iftwa (likely AIDWA - All India Democratic Women's Association). Speaking on the occasion, AIDWA District Secretary Durgam Anita called upon today's young women to take inspiration from Savitribai Phule's life and legacy. She emphasised that governments must ensure her biography reaches the younger generation, highlighting how Savitribai, as the country's first woman teacher, broke barriers by educating girls at a time when female education was taboo. Savitribai Phule led women forward, showed them the right path, and her enduring spirit must inspire every woman today to condemn injustices, stop attacks on women, and demand stricter enforcement of women's laws," Anita said. She asserted that women are not confined to the kitchen but should stand as role models for the nation. Condemning the rising atrocities against girls, she urged collective action to prevent such incidents and pressed governments to take proactive measures. "The programme saw enthusiastic participation from students and was attended by DYFI District President/Secretaries Gedam Teekanand and Godisela Karthik, KVPS District Secretary Durgam Dinakar, AIDWA District Assistant Secretary Nandi Padma, DYFI District Vice President Durgam Nikhil, PMRC Officer Shakuntala, Hostel Warden Md. Ali, AYNM Sridevi, and several girl students. "The event underscored Savitribai Phule's timeless contributions to women's empowerment and social reform, inspiring the youth to carry forward her vision of equality and education for all.

Rigorous Overhaul of Voter Lists Demanded: Telangana Chief Electoral Officer Calls for Meticulous Revision Process

“Taj Khan, Kaghaznagar, January 3 (Indian Chronicle)““Hyderabad/Asifabad (Komaram Bheem Asifabad District), January 3, 2026: Telangana State Chief Electoral Officer Sudarshan Reddy has directed election authorities across the state to undertake the special comprehensive voter list revision with utmost precision and rigor to ensure accuracy and inclusivity in the electoral rolls.“Addressing a statewide review meeting via video conference from Hyderabad on Saturday, Reddy, along with other senior election officials, interacted with district election officers, collectors, returning officers, and assistant returning officers. He emphasised the need for a foolproof implementation of the comprehensive revision program, including categorising and mapping voter lists, completing desk-level preparations, and assigning daily targets to booth-level officers (BLOs), supervisors, and assistant election officers.“Collaboration with booth-level agents and political parties is crucial to achieve a thorough revision of the voter rolls,” Reddy stated, underscoring the importance of grassroots involvement for an error-free electoral database.“At the district level, the meeting was attended from the video conference hall in the

Integrated District Collectorate Complex by District Election Officer and Collector Venkatesh Dhotre, Kaghaznagar Sub-Collector Shradha Shukla, and Asifabad Revenue Mandal Officer Lokeshwar Rao.“Speaking on the occasion, Collector Dhotre affirmed that the special comprehensive revision is being carried out in the Sirpur and Asifabad Assembly constituencies in line with directives from the State Election Commission.“We have segmented the voter lists into A, B, C, and D categories per polling station, with BLOs and supervisors conducting door-to-door verifications to collect accurate details,” he explained.“Dhotre highlighted proactive measures to identify and remove duplicate entries, names of deceased individuals, and those who have migrated out of the area.“Notices under Form 8 will be issued for deletions, and we are ensuring seamless coordination with appointed booth-level agents and political parties,” he added. Identification cards will be issued to BLOs, and all efforts are underway to complete the program within the prescribed timeline.“The session was also attended by various officials from the election department, reflecting a coordinated push towards strengthening Telangana’s electoral framework ahead of future polls.

Be prepared in all respects for conducting the municipal elections: - Yadadri Bhuvanagiri District Collector Hanumantha Rao “(Mandava Srisailam... Yadadri Bhuvanagiri District Bureau... Indian Chronicle... January 3):- District Collector Hanumantha Rao said that the draft voter list published ward-wise in the municipalities should be reviewed again.“On Saturday, the Collector held a meeting with SP Akanksha Yadav, Additional Collector for Local Bodies Bhaskar Rao, police officials, and municipal commissioners in the mini meeting hall. He said that the voter list should be 100% transparent without any errors, and therefore, the draft voter list published ward-wise on the 1st of this month should be reviewed again by the municipal commissioners, BLOs, and ward officers. He said that the currently published voter list should be prepared according to the ECI guidelines. He said that it should be checked whether the voter details in the voter list prepared ward-wise are according to the house numbers. He said that family members in a ward should be ensured to be in the same ward, and there should not be more voters than the prescribed limit in a ward. He also said that the returning officers identified for the municipal elections should be selected from among those who are active and have complete understanding. He clarified that under no circumstances will there be any opportunity for amendments to the current voter list, and this should be clearly communicated to the representatives of political parties and the public. They were instructed to display the draft voter list as directed by the Election Commission, receive objections and resolve them in a timely manner, and publish the final voter list on January 10th. They were also told to visit the polling stations on the ground and inspect the facilities. They were directed to take immediate action to provide basic amenities wherever necessary and to ensure that facilities such as ramps are available.“SP Akshansh Yadav instructed the election police officers to be vigilant at all times regarding law and order, from the date the schedule is announced until the completion of the election process. Additional SP Lakshminarayana, Revenue Divisional Officer Krishnareddy, Municipal Commissioners, and other concerned officials participated in this program.

Let us fight for women's rights, inspired by Savitribai Phule, India's first female social reformer

Call by Kondamadugu Nagamani, AIDWA Mandal Secretary
Savitribai Phule, the visionary who transformed literacy into a weapon... Nagamani

“(Mandava Srisailam... Yadadri Bhuvanagiri District Bureau... Indian Chronicle... January 3):- While parents give birth, it was Savitribai Phule who illuminated the lives of every girl child in this country with education. She lit the lamps of knowledge in the lives of the oppressed classes and dedicated her life to the progress of this nation. Inspired by Savitribai Phule, the first female teacher and mother of education in India, let us unite and fight against the attacks, murders, and rapes against women, and for women's rights, called Kondamadugu Nagamani, Secretary of the All India Democratic Women's Association (AIDWA) Bhuvanagiri Mandal. “Speaking after paying rich tributes by garlanding the portrait of Savitribai Phule at Cheemala Konduru village in the mandal on Saturday, on the occasion of Savitribai Phule's 195th birth anniversary, under the auspices of the AIDWA Bhuvanagiri Mandal Committee, Nagamani expressed her anguish that many learned intellectuals with patriarchal tendencies only know Savitribai as merely the wife of Jyotirao Phule. However, Savitribai Phule was the first female teacher in modern India, a pioneering woman activist who worked for the educational advancement of oppressed people, especially women, and a leader who tirelessly strived for women's liberation. She was a poet who waged a war against caste and the patriarchal system with her pen. Savitribai Phule was a great humanitarian who ran schools for Shudras and Dalits in her youth. She was a mother figure of social revolution who constantly yearned for men and women to receive education regardless of caste or religion, believing it to be a natural right, and for everyone to live equally. The inspiration of Savitribai Phule is immense in both past and present society, and the efforts and movements she spearheaded in the 19th century forced caste, class, and gender discrimination to retreat. It is because of her inspiration that girls in our country are studying modern education on par with boys, excelling in all fields, serving as public representatives in Parliament and Assemblies, and succeeding in jobs alongside men. Today, as various types of attacks, atrocities, murders, and rapes against women continue to increase daily in the country, Nagamani called upon women to unite and prepare for movements against these attacks, drawing inspiration from Savitribai Phule, the source of inspiration for both the past and the present. Also participating in this program were the village Deputy Sarpanch Manga Srivani, AIDWA Mandal Committee member Pallerla Padma, village leaders Ragula Ellamma, Gauramma, Lakshmi, Jilkapalli Sattamma, Angadi Pochamma, Bugga Mamata, Nari Lakshmi, and others.

MPJ Seeks Sub-Collector's Intervention Over Pending Wages of Municipal Contract Workers

“Taj Khan, Kaghaznagar, January 3 (Indian Chronicle)“Members of the MPJ team (Movement for Peace and Justice) submitted a representation to the Sub-Collector today, highlighting the severe hardships faced by municipal contract workers who have not received their wages for the past four months. “Despite working day and night to keep the city clean by collecting garbage and maintaining sanitation, these workers have been denied their rightful salaries. As a result of the ongoing strike by the unpaid workers, garbage has piled up across the city, and unsanitary conditions are visible everywhere, posing serious public health concerns. “The MPJ team earnestly appealed to the Sub-Collector to intervene and ensure that the pending wages of the municipal contract workers are released at the earliest, in the interest of justice, public hygiene, and the dignity of labour.
