Delay in IDOC Inauguration: Congress Neglects Public Administration – Ganta Ravikumar

“Warangal, July 24 (Indian Chronicle): BJP Warangal District President Ganta Ravikumar has alleged that the Congress government has completely neglected public administration since coming to power in the state. He criticized the government for delaying the inauguration of the Integrated District Offices Complex (IDOC) in Warangal, even though its construction is nearly complete. “In a statement issued from Shivanagar on Friday, Ravikumar noted that the IDOC building—constructed at the Azam Jahi Mill grounds at a cost of ₹80 crore of public money—has not yet been made available to the public due to the Congress government's incompetence and negligence. “He explained that the complex was built to consolidate all government departments in one location, with the aim of providing better and more convenient public services. However, he pointed out that the government's failure to inaugurate the building forces various departments to continue operating from cramped offices, causing severe inconvenience to the people of Warangal district. “Ravikumar alleged that District Minister Konda Surekha has completely failed to address local issues. He described it as unfortunate that the Minister has shown neither interest nor sincerity in making the building—ready for use in her own district—accessible to the public. He further accused her of ignoring the development needs of Warangal district and using her ministerial position solely for political gain. He criticized the Congress government for lacking sincerity regarding development, alleging that it is deliberately delaying the inauguration of public infrastructure projects for political reasons. “Criticizing the government's handling of power infrastructure, Ravi Kumar pointed out that work on the dedicated electrical substation required for the IDOC has been pending for a long time; he remarked that the current move to lay the foundation stone is merely an attempt to mask the government's incompetence. “He noted that the delay in making the new Collectorate operational is causing severe inconvenience to the people of Warangal district who visit government offices for various official tasks. “Demanding immediate action, Ravi Kumar urged the government to inaugurate the IDOC building and shift all government departments to the new complex without further delay. He warned that if the government persists with its anti-people policies and negligent attitude, large-scale protests and agitations would be launched across Warangal district.

Ensure Every Student Receives Two Sets of Uniforms by August 30: Chief Secretary Sanjay Jaju

“Alternative Crop Seed Melas to Be Held from July 27 to 29 Across Rythu Vedikas” “Collectors Directed to Promote Crop Diversification Amid Water Scarcity” “Khammam, July 24: Indian Chronicle” “Telangana Chief Secretary Sanjay Jaju has directed all District Collectors to ensure that every student studying in Government, Residential, Kasturba Gandhi Balika Vidyalayas (KGBVs), and Model Schools receives two sets of quality uniforms by August 30, with all stitching work completed within the stipulated deadline through a well-planned implementation strategy. “The directions were issued during a video conference held from Hyderabad on Friday to review the progress of school uniform stitching, seasonal agricultural conditions, and promotion of alternative crops. The meeting was attended by Special Chief Secretary for Panchayat Raj and Rural Development Dana Kishore, SERP CEO Divya, and Agriculture Secretary Surendra Mohan. Khammam District Collector Divakara T.S. participated in the review from the Collectorate. “Addressing the meeting, Sanjay Jaju said crop diversification has become one of the State Government's top priorities. He noted that while nearly 54 lakh acres of paddy had been cultivated by this time last year, only 14 lakh acres have been sown so far this season. Against the state's target of cultivating 1.39 crore acres, only about half the area has been covered, making it essential to encourage farmers to take up alternative crops instead of leaving agricultural land fallow. “The Chief Secretary instructed officials to conduct Alternative Crop Seed Melas at Rythu Vedikas from July 27 to 29 and create widespread awareness on crops requiring less water, including red gram, green gram, black gram, cowpea, sunflower, vegetables, and millets. He also advised discouraging paddy cultivation in borewell-dependent areas due to declining groundwater levels. “Special Chief Secretary Dana Kishore said that, as per the Chief Minister's directions, every student in government and residential educational institutions must receive at least one set of uniforms by August 15. He stressed the need for district-level action plans, daily monitoring of stitching work by DRDA officials, and strict adherence to quality standards. “Agriculture Secretary Surendra Mohan observed that the impact of Super El Niño has significantly reduced water availability in reservoirs, with the State recording nearly a 40 percent rainfall deficit. He urged officials to educate farmers about the prevailing conditions and motivate them to cultivate alternative crops. He also directed officials to promote oil palm cultivation, expand drip irrigation, prepare contingency plans at mandal and village levels, and regularly provide weather advisories to farmers. Although some rainfall is expected in August, he cautioned that it would not be sufficient for water-intensive crops such as paddy, with below-normal rainfall likely to continue through September and October. “SERP CEO Divya said the government aims to provide two sets of uniforms to all students in Government, Residential, KGBV, and Model Schools by August 30. She instructed women Self-Help Group tailors to accelerate stitching work, ensure timely fabric distribution and cutting, and utilise buttonhole and button-fixing machines at the mandal level to speed up completion. “Reiterating the importance of the programme, Chief Secretary Sanjay Jaju said school uniforms are a basic responsibility of the government and directed officials to continuously monitor every stage of implementation, including cloth supply, cutting, stitching, and quality control.
