Having Reduced Medigadda to Ruins, BRS Is Now Playing Politics Over the Godavar

Those Who Left Irrigation Projects in Shambles Have No Moral Authority to Lecture the State on Water Management” “BRS Leaders Must First Answer for Their Own Failures Instead of Misleading the Public on the Godavari Flood Situation” “Social Welfare Minister Shri Adluri Laxman Kumar Strongly Condemns the Remarks Made by BRS Leaders

“Hyderabad:” “State Social Welfare Minister Shri Adluri Laxman Kumar has strongly criticised the Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) for attempting to derive political mileage from the Godavari floods rather than standing with the people during a period of distress. “Responding to the recent statements made by BRS leaders, the Minister observed that their demand for the immediate lifting of floodwaters from Medigadda was nothing more than a deliberate distortion of facts. He remarked that such statements once again exposed the party's lack of even a basic understanding of the functioning of large-scale irrigation systems. “The mere presence of floodwaters in the Godavari does not imply that the entire volume can be lifted instantaneously,” the Minister said. “The operation of irrigation projects is not governed by political rhetoric or press conferences. It is determined by scientific parameters, including reservoir water levels, pumping capacity, canal carrying capacity, downstream storage availability, power supply, technical clearances from engineers and established safety protocols. “BRS Has No Moral Right to Speak on Medigadda” “The Minister asserted that the BRS must first explain to the people of Telangana how the Medigadda Barrage, constructed at the cost of thousands of crores of public money, had deteriorated into its present condition. “The structural deficiencies in Medigadda have imposed a massive financial burden on the State exchequer. The entire nation has witnessed the controversy surrounding the project. It is therefore nothing short of political bankruptcy for those responsible to now attempt to mislead the public in its name,” he said. “Gravity Flow and Lift Irrigation Are Fundamentally Different” “Shri Adluri Laxman Kumar further remarked that the BRS leadership had once again displayed its ignorance by equating gravity flow with lift irrigation while commenting on the movement of water from Yellampalli. “He clarified that every irrigation project is designed according to engineering principles, with gravity flow being utilised wherever geographically feasible, while lift irrigation is adopted wherever technically necessary. Such decisions, he emphasised, are based entirely on scientific and engineering considerations rather than political narratives. “What Did BRS Achieve During Its Ten Years in Office?” “Questioning the credibility of the opposition, the Minister asked why the BRS had failed to complete the Tummidihatti Project despite repeatedly promising it to the people of Telangana throughout its decade-long tenure in power. “It is both ironic and misleading for a party that failed to fulfil its own commitments while in government to now seek political advantage by criticising the present administration,” he observed. “Farmers' Welfare Remains the Government's Supreme Priority” “The Minister stated that under the leadership of Hon'ble Chief Minister Shri A. Revanth Reddy, the Congress Government, in Indiramma Rajyam, is committed to ensuring reliable irrigation for farmers and safe drinking water for the people through a scientific, transparent and professionally managed irrigation policy.

SuperYou brings a ‘bolt’ new take on flavour-first snacking with the all-new Power Puffs “Hyderabad: SuperYou has announced the launch of SuperYou Power Puffs, the newest addition to its snacking portfolio. Designed for consumers who love bold flavours without compromising on better choices, Power Puffs combines a distinctive bolt-shaped puff, a light and crunchy texture, and added protein. From a quick school-time snack to a midday craving, the range is made for every snacking moment. “Building on the success of its Multigrain Protein Chips, Power Puffs marks SuperYou’s expansion into the puffed snacks category. Available in four flavours - Cheesy Cheese, Maaad Achari, Chilli Masala and Pizza Party; the range brings together familiar, Indian-inspired flavours in a baked format, with up to 13g of protein per pack. Bringing this launch to life is the overall campaign, “Pack Khulte Hi... Khatam, Bro!”, capturing the one thing that all snack lovers relate to, a pack that’s over before you know it. With every crunchy, bolt-shaped bite, SuperYou Power Puffs gives people the permission to attack their snack cravings with a baked, not fried snack that’s packed with bold flavours and protein. “Commenting on the launch, Ranveer Singh, Co-founder, SuperYou, said, “Power Puffs is exactly the kind of snack I love, big on flavour, fun to eat and impossible to stop at just one. The signature bolt shape is distinctive and captures the boldness that Power Puffs is all about. We wanted every flavour to bring its own signature twist, whether it’s cheesy, achari, spicy or pizza-loaded. The idea was simple, take a snack that’s fun, flavour-packed, and impossible to resist. “Adding further, Nikunj Biyani, Co-founder, SuperYou, said, “Consumers today don’t want to choose between taste and better ingredients, they expect both. That insight shaped Power Puffs from day one. We wanted to reimagine one of India’s favourite snack formats with familiar flavours, a distinctive shape and added protein, creating a snack people can enjoy every day without feeling like they’re making a compromise. “Power Puffs will be available in 33g and 55g packs across leading e-commerce and quick commerce platforms, including Amazon, Flipkart, Blinkit, Instamart and Zepto, as well as select modern trade and general trade stores across major cities in India. With this launch, SuperYou continues its journey of reimagining familiar snack formats through products that combine great taste, convenience and better ingredients.
