

Massive Thyroid Tumour Extending into Chest Successfully Removed

“Hyderabad, September 19 (Indian Chronicle) : Doctors at CARE Hospitals, HITEC City, have successfully performed a complex thyroid surgery on a 37-year-old woman from Sudan, CARE Hospitals, HITEC City Chief Operating Officer Dr Pramod Gupta said in a statement on Saturday. The thyroid had enlarged to 15x10 cm and extended into the mediastinum (central part of the chest). The surgery was particularly challenging as the patient had undergone an operation in the same region seven years ago. The procedure was performed under general anaesthesia by a team led by Consultant Surgical Oncologist Dr Rahul Reddy Levaka, along with Dr Ajay Chanakya and Dr Ramu Damuluri. A total thyroidectomy was performed, while the portion extending into the chest was removed using Video-Assisted Thoracoscopic Surgery (VATS). The patient recovered well and was subsequently discharged from the hospital.

CPM party held a meeting with the 'Srinivasa Nagar houses issue' affected people in the wake of the High Court order.

“Khammam, Sep 19, Indian Chronicle.” Following the relief provided to the Srinivasa Nagar affected people in the wake of the petition filed by the CPM party in the High Court, the CPM party conducted a meeting on Saturday near the Ayyappa Swamy temple under the leadership of the Khammam Division Committee. The leaders sought the people's opinions on how to permanently resolve the Srinivasa Nagar housing issue in the future. Speaking at the meeting, CPM party Khammam District Secretary Nunna Nageswara Rao and Division Secretary Y Vikram said that as a result of carrying out direct protests over the Srinivasa Nagar housing issue continuously over the past few days on one hand, while on the other hand the CPM party approached the High Court, temporary relief has been obtained. However, they assured that in the future, the CPM party will continue protests so that the Srinivasa Nagar house - site issue is completely resolved, and will also strongly present the people's arguments in court with senior lawyers. They said that they will continue their struggle so that the poor families who have been residing here for the past 40 years can continue to live here permanently. They said that the people of Srinivasa Nagar should remain alert, that various political parties are merely carrying out token protests, and that only the Left parties are standing with the affected people and fighting for them. They made it clear that only the red flags genuinely fight for the problems of the poor. They alleged that the other parties are visible only when there are votes. They said that in the future, until the Srinivasa Nagar housing issue is permanently resolved, the CPM party will stand with the people both in court and in the public arena. They demanded that the District Collec-

Ashish Gandhi, Kalyanji Gogana, Rizwan Entertainment's Danny First Strike Is Raw, Rustic and Bold- Packs a Solid Punch

“Rizwan Entertainment and Kalyanji Content Pictures are jointly presenting the upcoming romantic crime drama Danny, produced by Rizwan and directed by Kalyanji Gogana. The film features Ashish Gandhi, Sejal Gupta, Sonal Singh and Azhar Khan in prominent roles. The makers have now unveiled the film's first strike.” “The first strike of Danny immediately grabs attention with its youthful, provocative and unapologetically bold tone. The glimpse opens with a girl asking the protagonist, “Do you always come to the beach alone?” He responds with a cheeky line, saying, “If I have to come to the beach, there definitely has to be a girl.” He then goes on to reveal that he likes a girl's back as much as he likes the beach. These bold exchanges instantly establish the film's attitude and are likely to strike a chord with its target youth audience.” “However, the first strike also makes it evident that Danny is not merely a bold romantic drama. The visuals hint at a much darker world, bringing together romance, crime and intense action. The rugged imagery, the protagonist's attitude and the raw presentation give the film a distinctive texture. The final sequence, in which the protagonist smokes a cigarette while covered in blood, leaves a particularly strong impression and adds to the intrigue surrounding his character.” “Overall, the first strike suggests that ‘Danny’ is shaping up to be a bold, raw and rustic romantic crime drama packed with commercial elements.” “The reunion of director Kalyanji Gogana and Ashish Gandhi further adds to the interest surrounding the project. The duo previously collaborated on ‘Natakam’ and ‘Kalinga’, with both films receiving a positive response from audiences. Their coming together once again for ‘Danny’ has naturally raised expectations, and the first strike only adds to the curiosity. Ashish Gandhi delivers what appears to be his most intense performance yet, while Kalyanji Gogana brings a distinctive visual style and treatment to the character and the story.” “Visually, the first strike stands out with impressive cinematography and a raw visual treatment that complements the film's mood. The camera work by AK Anand adds depth and energy to the sequences, while Sai Kartheek's background score emerges as one of the major highlights, enhancing the intensity and impact of the visuals.” “Kushi is serving as the co-producer, with Manikanth taking care of the editing. Ram Sunkara and Kalyanji Gogana have choreographed the action sequences, while Sai Ram Jalla is the co-director. Rhythm Studios is responsible for sound design, and Koti Works has handled the publicity design.” “The makers are expected to announce more updates about ‘Danny’ soon. The film is gearing up for a grand theatrical release in October.” “Cast : Ashish Gandhi, Sejal Gupta, Sonal Singh, Azhar Khan and others” “ Technical Crew: “Director: Kalyanji Gogana” Producer: Rizwan” Presented by: Kolli Gopal Krishna” Music Director: Sai Kartheek” Co - Producer: Khushi” Cinematographer: AK Anand” Editor: Manikanth” Executive Producer: Bhargav Thota” Action Choreography: Ram Sunkara, Kalyanji Gogana” Co-Director: Sai Ram Jalla” Sound Design: Rhythm Studios” Publicity Design: Koti Works” PRO: Sai Satish

His pen is needed in the fight for the rights of journalists-;:Syed Qadeer

NDIAN CHRONICLE KHAMMAM K SANJAY “

“Srinivasa Rao, the writer who wakes up the society“-TWJF Leaders “Khammam, September 19: “Telangana Working Journalists Federation (TWJF) district president Syed Qadeer said that senior journalist, poet and writer Minister Pragada Srinivasa Rao's writings reflect social issues and provoke thought among people. Srinivasa Rao was felicitated under the auspices of TWJF District Committee and Press Club Committee at Khammam Press Club on Saturday.

District Vice President Duvva Sagar presided over the meeting. “Syed Qadir said that his passion for Telugu language, awareness of social issues and continuous efforts brought uniqueness to Srinivasa Rao's works. He reminded that the spiritual and cultural articles written by him in Namaste Telangana daily went widely to the people. It is a matter of pride that Srinivasa Rao, who has shown the uniqueness of Telugu language and culture in America, belongs to Khammam district. He hoped that his experience and writing skills on the issues of journalists' rights and housing would be of great use to the Federation. “TWJF district vice-president Duvva Sagar and state committee member Santhosh Chakraborty said that Srinivasa Rao's writings and poems are an inspiration to young journalists. District committee member Sheikh Johnny Pasha, state committee member Madhushri, district committee members Garidepalli Venkateswarlu, press club president Daggubati Madhavrao, general secretary Korakopula Rambabu and others praised his services. Santosh Chakraborty suggested that consideration should be given to recommending him for an appropriate honorary award in recognition of his literary and journalistic services. “Responding to the award, Minister Pragada Srinivasa Rao said that rather than getting an award in America, he was very happy to be honored by the federation and press club among fellow journalists. The leadership of Syed Qadir and the contributions of Duvva Sagar and Jani Pasha were specially mentioned. Future rights of journalists, He said that he will use his writing power on the issues of housing and the welfare of journalists. He called upon all journalist associations to move forward unitedly for the realization of rights. Later, Srinivasa Rao was honored with a shawl and souvenirs. “Federation leaders Yusuf Pasha, journalists SV Reddy, Roshi Reddy, Murali, Video Journalist Accreditation Committee member Arshad Khan and others participated in this program.

Judiciary, police to step up coordination for speedy case disposal.

Karimnagar September 19, Khaja Sikandar Mohiuddin (Correspondent): Police and judicial authorities have decided to strengthen coordination and make greater use of digital systems to expedite the disposal of cases and minimise delays in court-related procedures.

The decision was taken at a coordination meeting of judicial and police officials held at the Astra Convention Hall at the Police Headquarters here on Saturday. Principal District and Sessions Judge S. Shivakumar attended the meeting, while Police Commissioner Gaush Alam stressed the need for closer coordination between the two departments.

Mr. Shivakumar said digitisation and effective management of electronic evidence had assumed greater importance under the new criminal laws. He said the 'One Data-One Entry' system under the Interoperable Criminal Justice System (ICJS) was being implemented to integrate police investigation records, forensic reports and court records on a common digital platform.

Such integration would help save time and improve transparency in the trial process, he said. The use of e-FIRs and e-chargesheets, digital summons and virtual examination of witnesses were also discussed as measures to streamline judicial proceedings.

Mr. Alam said better coordination between the police and judiciary could help speed up case disposal and substantially reduce delays in court-related processes. Officials discussed measures to ensure timely receipt of e-FIRs and e-chargesheets by the concerned courts and stressed the need for proper monitoring through the relevant digital systems. The use of e-summons, wherever applicable, in place of physical summons for witnesses and accused was also emphasised.

The meeting also discussed joint training for police and court personnel on e-FIRs, e-chargesheets and e-summons and mechanisms for resolving technical or procedural issues through coordination between the two departments.

Officials were advised to upload judgment copies and witness statements online in a timely manner and regularly furnish statistics on e-FIRs, e-chargesheets and e-summons to facilitate monitoring of case progress.

Mr. Alam directed police officials to coordinate with the concerned courts to ensure that charge sheets were received on all working days to avoid unnecessary delays in filing cases. The meeting also examined issues relating to old cases of Gangadhara police station following a change in court jurisdiction.

Judges, police officers, court staff and officials of the departments concerned attended the meeting.

Double-bedroom houses in Karimnagar, Huzurabad to be readied for inauguration, Basic amenities such as water, power and roads to be ensured, says Collector.

Karimnagar September 19, Khaja Sikandar Mohiuddin (Correspondent): Karimnagar Collector Chitra Mishra has directed officials to complete necessary repairs and provide basic amenities at double-bedroom houses constructed in the Karimnagar and Huzurabad Assembly constituencies before they are inaugurated and handed over to eligible beneficiaries.

At a meeting with officials of the Housing and Roads and Buildings (R&B) departments and contractors at the Collectorate here on Saturday, Ms. Mishra reviewed the condition of the houses and their surroundings. She instructed officials to take up cleaning works and complete all pending repairs.

The Collector stressed the need to ensure essential amenities, including drinking water, electricity and approach roads, at the housing colonies. She also directed officials to assess the present condition of each house and address deficiencies before the houses were allotted to beneficiaries.

Officials should take advance measures to prevent beneficiaries from facing problems after the houses were handed over to them, she said.

Housing Department Deputy Executive Engineer Praveen, R&B Deputy Executive Engineer Srikanth and Junior Engineer Rajashekar were among those present.

'Land grab worth crores in Khammam'

Constructions by several people, including 'MB', amid irregularities..!!

“Praneeth Kumar Pathakamudi, “Khammam Staffer, “September 19, “Indian Chronicle. ““The issue of encroachment of government lands worth crores in the heart of Khammam city has come to light. There are allegations that, along with the management of MB Function Hall located on the local FCI Bypass Road, several others have encroached on lands belonging to the R&B and Irrigation departments and undertaken constructions. It is also learnt that electricity connections have been provided to constructions without any house numbers. There are allegations that the owner of MB Function Hall, during the previous government, showed his shopping premises beside the RTC depot in Buranpur as agricultural land and received Rythu Bandhu benefits. Locally, there are also allegations that the same person encroached on government lands surrounding the function hall.”“? Encroachments around the Gollapadu Canal.”“On examining the details, the Gollapadu Channel, which is currently in one of the city's most important areas, runs about 100 feet wide through the FCI godown bypass. It appears that land was acquired in phases for the railway line towards Saradhinagar, as well as for the railway overbridge and FCI requirements. It is learnt that after using the acquired land for constructions and other needs, some land was left vacant as per R&B regulations for an approach road, subway and other requirements. There are allegations that the operator of MB Function Hall and several others have set their sights on this vacant land as well as the irrigation canal passing through there. It appears that there are disputes even over the construction permissions of the function hall.”“There are allegations that a bridge was constructed over the Gollapadu Channel belonging to the Irrigation Department, which is under municipal management, without any official permissions. Locals say that the adjacent land is being used for parking. There are also allegations that those in power are providing support to prevent officials from taking action. The concerned authorities need to conduct a full-scale inquiry into this. In the same sequence, there are allegations that constructions have been undertaken by encroaching on the surrounding R&B land as well as the land outside the FCI boundary wall. It is also learnt that, without stopping there, a function hall board has been installed on the R&B land on the other side of the subway.”“? In the name of a temple.”“It is learnt that a government employee constructed a wall around about 400 square yards of land in the name of a temple and a cowshed. It appears that an electricity connection has also been provided to the construction. However, locals say that apart from spiritual activities, no cows are seen there. There are also allegations that another person constructed a structure on some land behind the same site in the name of a temple. These constructions are reportedly located close to the illegal bridge of MB Garden. Car World, mechanic garages”According to municipal regulations and Telangana CDMA regulations, garages set up for heavy mechanic sheds and repairs of buses, lorries and other vehicles must be located only in designated areas. Contrary to this, compounds and large garages are reportedly being established on government land adjoining MB Garden, near the R&B approach road opposite it, and along the irrigation canal.”Officials need to investigate whether the operators of these garages themselves encroached on government land? Or whether someone encroached on it and leased it to them? Questions are also being raised as to whether ‘Vijaya Durga Car World’, located on the R&B land adjoining the subway belonging to the bypass bridge, has permissions. A protective wall has been built around the site and it appears that business is being conducted on a large scale there.”“? Suspicious registration.”“The registration number 261/2019 appears to be displayed on the Vijaya Durga Car World board in the subway area. Examination has revealed that the shop previously located in Khammam Raparthi Nagar under the name Car World has been closed. However, clarity is needed regarding other registrations related to that establishment. When official records were examined based on the registration number displayed on the Vijaya Durga Car World board at MB Garden, it is learnt that document number 261/2019 within the jurisdiction of the Khammam registration office pertains to a house site in Velugumatla. This has raised doubts as to whether the registration number displayed on the Car World board is actually related to that establishment. The concerned authorities need to clarify whether the registration number is being misused to mislead customers.”“? A hub for illegal activities.”“There are allegations that the constructions around MB Garden are becoming a hub for some illegal activities. Questions are being raised as to whether these activities, which are alleged to have taken place during the previous government, are still continuing today? How are encroachments of government lands worth crores of rupees continuing in the heart of the city? There is a need for officials of the R&B, Irrigation, Municipal, Revenue and Electricity departments to conduct a comprehensive inquiry into the entire matter and bring the facts to light.
