

Are there any checks on DMart's licenses, permits and taxes..!!

“Praneeth Kumar Pathakamudi, Khammam Staffer, September 24, Indian Chronicle.” “Questions are now being raised regarding the permits, licenses, registrations, and tax details registered with various government departments in connection with 'DMart' (Trade Mark - Avenue Supermarts Limited), which is conducting business on a large scale in the 3rd Town limits of Jubilee Pura in Khammam city. There is a need to examine the official records regarding whether all the permits and registrations related to this large commercial establishment, which sells items needed by the public every day, are continuing as per the rules? All permits must be displayed publicly inside the mart. If loose sales are to be made, the related goods must be kept in sealed containers, and complete details related to them must be displayed in a manner visible to consumers. The fact that officials who crack down on small and medium-sized traders do not look toward the corporate entity 'DMart' raises suspicion.

“? Where is the trade license?” “A trade license is crucial for an establishment conducting business within municipal limits. What is the current trade license number of Khammam DMart? Up to what date is it valid? When was it renewed? These details should be clearly known to the public. If the license exists, its details should be disclosed to the concerned authorities. Otherwise, it is the responsibility of the authorities to take action as per the rules.” “? Confusion over the municipal house number?” “Different house numbers are appearing in different records relating to the address. In the official star location/old records, the house number is 5-12-75, Trunk Road. In municipal records, this house number is shown as residence in Sriram Nagar. “In GST records and municipal records, the house number is 1-7-48, 49, Jubilee Pura. Against this backdrop, it needs to be clarified what the actual property number is in the records of Khammam Municipal Corporation. Officials need to compare the GST records, old business address records, and municipal property records and reveal the facts. “With a Hyderabad address, the GST business in Khammam has a GST license (36AACCA8432H1ZR) in the name of Avenue Super Mart Limited. As a public limited company, the department code license was issued by the Masab Tank Department on 1/07/2017.” “? Is there labor registration?” “Questions are arising as to whether registrations related to contract workers and the necessary labor department permissions exist in a large commercial establishment employing hundreds of people. Details also need to come out as to whether labor department officials previously conducted inspections of this establishment? Did they identify any deficiencies? Did they issue notices?” “? Are weights and measures in order?” “In a supermarket, matters such as packaging, weights, measures, and display of prices are directly linked to consumer rights. When did the weights and measures officials conduct an inspection? Were any deficiencies found during the inspections? Were fines imposed? These details should also be known to the public.” “? What is the status of the food license?” “What are the details of the food safety license applicable to the sale, packaging, and storage of food products? How long is it valid? Is it in the name of the establishment itself? Are the premises-related details correctly registered? These matters also need to be examined.” “? Are taxes being paid properly?” “Municipal property tax of Rs 6,37,148 was paid by cheque in April this year. Khammam Municipal Corporation should clarify whether trade license fees and other local taxes/fees are being paid properly? Were there any arrears in previous years?” “? Where are the officials' inspections?” “Questions are now being heard as to whether municipal, labor, food safety, legal metrology, and other departments are conducting inspections within their respective jurisdictions in relation to a large commercial establishment? If inspections were conducted, where are the reports? If there are deficiencies, what action was taken? If everything is in order, why are the officials not clarifying that matter?”

Movement for implementation of minimum wages Jio 6

NDIAN CHRONICLE KHAMMAM K SANJAY "" TUCI State Vice President G Ramaiah's call Telangana State Government released a pamphlet on Bypass Road under the auspices of TUCI (Thursday) to apply the 6go immediately to all the workers, on this occasion G Ramaiah said Revanth Reddy Government announced that it should be implemented from 1st June 2026 and more than one crore workers are benefiting, they said that these announcements are limited to papers. Allegedly, the then KCR and today's Revanth Reddy governments are acting in accordance with the industrialists, but they have criticized that they have failed miserably in implementing the minimum wages in accordance with the increased prices of the workers who are the creators of wealth. They have asked the TUCI state committee to hold demonstrations and hold demonstrations at the workers of all sectors from 25th to 30th of this month to implement the minimum wages in accordance with the increased prices of the workers. They said that it is not correct to divide everything into Joneses in the past, but it is not right to judge them as Joneses in today's life. This will cause serious damage to the workers. They said that the working class is in a state where they have to eat and drink. They asked the workers of all sectors to participate in their agitation and put pressure on the government for the implementation of JIO. Others participated*

Medical Team Comes to Aid of Tribal Pregnant Woman

""Indian Chronicle, Kagaznagar / Jainoor, September 24: A poor tribal pregnant woman suffering from severe anaemia and intrauterine growth restriction (IUGR) was shifted to Warangal for advanced medical care following the special initiative of Sirpur (U) Mandal Medical Officer Dr Uday Kiran. "The woman, from Pamulwada Gram Panchayat in Sirpur (U) mandal, was found to have a haemoglobin level of just 6 grams. Considering the seriousness of her condition and the need for emergency medical care and safe delivery, medical officials referred her to the CKM Mother and Child Health Hospital in Warangal. "She was initially referred from Asifabad to Mancherial, then to Karimnagar and subsequently to Warangal for specialised treatment. "As the woman's family was economically disadvantaged, medical staff took the initiative to provide financial assistance towards the necessary expenses. Dr Uday Kiran also made his personal vehicle available to the ANM and arranged for the ANM and ASHA worker to accompany the woman to ensure continuous monitoring and medical support throughout the journey. "According to medical staff, while the woman was travelling in an ambulance, her husband asked the vehicle to stop, saying he needed to use a toilet, and subsequently left the spot. Despite the situation, the medical staff continued their efforts and ensured that the pregnant woman reached Warangal safely. "Necessary arrangements were made at the hospital for further medical management and treatment to ensure a safe delivery. "Several people appreciated Sirpur (U) Mandal Medical Officer Dr Uday Kiran and the PHC medical staff for extending support to the economically disadvantaged pregnant woman and ensuring medical assistance despite the difficult circumstances.

“Khammam, September 24, Indian Chronicle” With the objective of further strengthening quality medical services in government hospitals, patient-centered medical services are expanding at Khammam Government Medical College and Government General Hospital through the continuous monitoring of District Collector Divakar TS and follow-up by the Deputy CM, ministers from the district, and Medical and Health Department officials. As part of this, the hospital's Pathology Department is playing a key role in providing timely and accurate diagnosis to patients. “Through tests being provided in departments such as Cytopathology, Histopathology, Hematology, Clinical Pathology, Body Fluid Cytology, and others, it is possible to detect diseases at an early stage, determine the appropriate treatment approach, refer patients to specialized medical centers when necessary, and continue subsequent follow-up.” More than 1.78 lakh diagnostic services in the Pathology Department of Government Medical College and Government General Hospital, Khammam, has conducted a large number of diagnostic tests so far in 2026-27 Hematology services. “Various tests required for the diagnosis of blood-related diseases are being conducted through the Hematology Department. A total of 1 lakh 50 thousand 528 tests were conducted, including CBC 65 thousand 964, H.B. 65 thousand 964, B.T. 8 thousand 100, C.T. 8 thousand 100, and blood grouping 12 thousand 100. These tests provide essential information required for the treatment of patients, along with identifying anemia and other blood-related problems.” Clinical Pathology services. “The Clinical Pathology Department provides services to identify diseases based on samples such as body fluids and urine. Body fluid cell count 13 thousand 200, semen analysis 7, CUE tests 180, a total of 15 thousand 306 were conducted.” Cytology services in the early detection of cancer. “The Cytopathology Department is playing a key role in detecting cancer and other diseases at an early stage. FNAC 901, Pap smear 902, fluid cytology 210, a total of 2013 tests were conducted. The FNAC test is widely useful for evaluating lumps appearing in various parts of the body, it helps identify lumps and is particularly useful for assessing the nature of disease in breast lumps, lymph nodes, and other areas. Pap smear tests are being conducted to detect cervical cancer at an early stage. By identifying abnormal changes in cervical cells, it provides guidance for further medical evaluation and necessary treatment. Similarly, cytology tests of body fluids such as pleural fluid help identify inflammatory, infectious, and malignant processes. BAL samples are also being examined in necessary clinical situations.” Tissue-based diagnosis through Histopathology. “Biopsy - 550 tests were conducted. The Histopathology Department examines biopsy and surgical specimens received from various clinical and surgical departments under a microscope and provides accurate tissue-based diagnoses. Through cervical biopsies, it is possible to identify high-grade lesions such as CIN-2, CIN-3 and determine whether invasive cancer is present or absent. Patients requiring specialized cancer medical services are being referred to appropriate centers. Similarly, in conditions such as abnormal uterine bleeding, endometrial biopsies are examined to help identify conditions such as hyperplasia, atypical changes, and endometrial cancer. Punch and excision biopsies related to skin and soft-tissue lesions are also being examined, helping to differentiate and diagnose inflammatory, infectious, benign, and malignant lesions.” Identification of hemoglobin-related diseases in children and youth. “Peripheral blood smear testing makes it possible to identify abnormalities in the morphology and number of red blood cells, white blood cells, and platelets. Particularly in children and youth, when hereditary hemoglobinopathies such as thalassemia and sickle cell disease are suspected, it facilitates further hemoglobin analysis. In necessary cases, further evaluation through specialized tests such as HPLC enables timely diagnosis, counseling, and follow-up management.” Comprehensive patient care from diagnosis to treatment. “The services provided by the Pathology Department are not limited merely to tests and reports but are serving as a crucial part of the patient's treatment process. Based on test results, doctors are able to make timely treatment decisions, refer patients to other departments when necessary, provide specialized medical services, and continue patient follow-up. “The availability of all services such as necessary subsequent histopathology tests in suspected cancer cases, cervical biopsies in gynecology-related cases, and hematology tests for blood-related diseases within the same government medical system has become highly beneficial to patients. Under the supervision of the District Collector, the quality of government medical services is being continuously reviewed, and measures are being taken to ensure the necessary facilities, tests, staff coordination, and timely services to patients. The Deputy CM, Medical and Health Department Minister, and ministers from the district are continuously following up on strengthening district government medical services and providing guidance on necessary matters. As a result, the Pathology Department at Khammam Government Medical College and Government General Hospital is emerging as a key department in the government medical system by providing patient-centered services at all stages, including screening, early detection of diseases, accurate diagnosis, treatment planning, referral, and follow-up.

“UPPAL, SEPTEMBER 24 (INDIAN CHRONICLE): “As part of the 47th Annual Mass Ganesh Immersion Festival, the Bhagyanagar Ganesh Utsav Samithi, Uppal Branch, will set up a special welcome platform at Uppal Ring Road on September 25, Uppal Branch Convener Akula Rakesh said. “He stated that elaborate arrangements were being made to accord a grand and devotional welcome to the Lord Ganesha idols being taken for immersion after twelve days of grand worship and celebrations. “Akula Rakesh said that the welcome programme would begin at 1 p.m. on September 25, and all Ganesh idols arriving at the Uppal Ring Road for immersion would be received with devotion and enthusiasm at the special welcome platform. “He appealed to devotees to participate in large numbers in the sacred occasion of taking Lord Ganesha to the waters for immersion and make the programme a success. “He also urged devotees and organisers of Ganesh pandals to maintain peace, coordination and discipline throughout the immersion process and extend their cooperation for the smooth conduct of the festivities. “Akula Rakesh advised Ganesh idol organisers arriving for immersion to contact the Bhagyanagar Ganesh Utsav Samithi, Uppal Branch, if they face any difficulties or require assistance. He expressed the hope that everyone would participate in the farewell to Lord Ganesha, who had been worshipped with devotion and celebrated through various religious programmes over the past twelve days, with faith, unity and festive spirit, and make the Ganesh immersion celebrations a grand success.

Rulers and officials care only about the profits of industry owners, not the lives of the people: CPM State Committee member Kondamadugu Narasimha

“Let us fight until the chemical industries in Anthammagudem and Dothigudem villages are removed: CPM State Committee member Kondamadugu Narasimha “(Yadadri Bhuvanagiri District Bureau – Indian Chronicle – September 24): CPM State Committee member Kondamadugu Narasimha stated that those in power and the district administration care only about the profits of chemical industry owners, showing no concern for the lives of people being lost or the agricultural fields being ruined due to industrial pollution. He called upon the residents of Anthammagudem and Dothigudem villages to unite and prepare for a struggle to remove the 11 chemical industries located in their areas. Speaking at a meeting of the Anti-Pollution Struggle Committee—held on Thursday in Dothigudem village (Pochampally Mandal) following a CPM branch meeting—Narasimha remarked that the chemical industries in the region are destroying agriculture and claiming lives. Chemicals and toxic gases from these 11 industries are contaminating groundwater, ruining crops and fields, and turning harvested produce and vegetables into toxic substances. It was stated that accidents leading to loss of workers' lives are occurring due to the storage of chemicals in violation of regulations and a failure to observe safety measures; furthermore, local residents are suffering from respiratory distress and various illnesses caused by toxic gas pollution. The Pollution Control Board (PCB)—which ought to curb pollution—has failed completely; the District PCB Officer is allegedly in collusion with company owners and is in no position to even assess the extent of pollution emanating from these industries. Officials such as the District Collector, RDO, and local MLAs merely create a commotion when accidents or damages occur but fail to provide permanent solutions or ensure compensation for farmers who have suffered losses. It was demanded that these chemical industries be removed from the area to safeguard the livelihoods of the local people and preserve agricultural lands. Narasimha urged the public to unite and fight until the chemical industries are removed, affirming that the CPM stands at the forefront of this struggle. CPM Secretary Kota Ramachandra Reddy demanded the immediate removal of chemical industries that are claiming lives and causing water and air pollution, as well as the payment of compensation to farmers and the conduct of a survey to identify the affected mandals; he also called for the inclusion of pollution control measures in the government-appointed committee's agenda and announced a padayatra (walkathon) scheduled for October 1st. Prasadam Vishnu, a member of the CPM Mandal Secretariat, presided over the meeting. Attendees included former CPM Mandal Secretary Pagilla Lingareddy, Mandal Secretariat member Manchala Madhu, Mandal Committee member Kalukuri Bikshapathi, party members, and farmers from various villages—specifically Gurram Ramachandra Reddy, Muddam Sattaiah, Yasa Mallareddy, Reddy Mallaiah, Gummi Mahesh, Kadiyam Damodar Reddy, Rao Srisailam, Arla Narasimha, Vaspari Anjamma, Vaspari Kamma, Bharathamma, Poojitha, Jayamma, Ravula Dhanalakshmi, Kamamma, Sathireddy, Vanamma, and Lingaiah.

Cranes Arranged in Alwal for Safe Shifting of Tall Ganesh Idols

“Alwal, September 24 (INDIAN CHRONICLE)“In view of the upcoming Ganesh idol immersion, Alwal Police have made special arrangements for the safe shifting of Ganesh idols measuring more than 10 feet in height. Two cranes have been made available at the Alwal Police Station to help lift the idols from the mandapams and safely place them onto vehicles. Organisers of Ganesh mandapams requiring crane assistance for idols above 10 feet have been advised to contact the Alwal Police Station. The cranes can be utilised under police supervision to ensure the safe handling and transportation of the idols. Alwal Police appealed to all mandapam organisers to cooperate with the police and follow safety measures to ensure that the Ganesh immersion process is conducted peacefully and safely.

“Cyberabad“24 Sept 2026“Indian Chronicle“Cyberabad Police Commissioner Dr. M. Ramesh on Thursday inspected several Ganesh immersion points across the Commissionerate and directed police personnel to remain on high alert until the immersion process is completed.“The Commissioner reviewed security, traffic management and safety arrangements at Netlampur Lake and Kokapet Lake under Narsingi limits, Rayasamudram Lake and Saki Cheruvu in the Ameenpur area, Patancheru, and Gangaram Lake in Chandanagar, besides other immersion points under the Narsingi and Patancheru police station limits.“During the inspections, Dr. Ramesh instructed officials to ensure that Ganesh immersions are conducted peacefully and safely, with no scope for negligence. He stressed that police personnel deployed at immersion points should remain continuously available and closely monitor the situation.“Special emphasis was placed on traffic management along immersion routes. Officials were directed to regulate vehicular movement and introduce diversions wherever necessary to prevent congestion and ensure smooth passage for devotees and immersion processions.“The Commissioner also called for close coordination among the Police, Electricity, Revenue, Medical and Municipal departments. All necessary arrangements should be kept ready to address emergencies and minimise inconvenience to devotees, he said.“Police were further instructed to maintain special surveillance against theft, mischief and other unlawful activities during the festivities. Officers were asked to closely monitor suspicious movements and take prompt legal action against anyone attempting to disturb public order.“Dr. Ramesh reiterated that public safety remains the top priority and directed officers to continue intensive field-level supervision until the last Ganesh idol is immersed.

Dream Big, Strive for Excellence: Governor Inspires Telangana SSC Toppers

“Hyderabad “24 Sept 2026“Indian Chronicle““Telangana Governor Shiv Pratap Shukla attended the Shriram Group – Mission 10th Class Reward & Recognition Ceremony as the Chief Guest at Shilpakala Vedika in Hyderabad, where 632 SSC toppers from government schools across Telangana were felicitated for their academic excellence. “The meritorious students were recognised with rewards amounting to approximately ₹2.27 crore. The Governor congratulated the achievers and appreciated the Shriram Group for its initiative to encourage students from government schools and recognise their academic accomplishments. “Addressing the gathering, Governor Shukla urged students to dream big, work hard and continuously strive for excellence. He encouraged them to remain curious, develop strong character and pursue their ambitions with discipline and determination. “Highlighting the importance of the milestone, the Governor reminded students that completing Class 10 was not the end of their academic journey but the beginning of a new chapter filled with opportunities and responsibilities. “He called upon the young achievers to make the best use of future educational opportunities, contribute positively to society and bring pride to Telangana through their achievements. “The ceremony celebrated the determination and academic success of government school students while highlighting the importance of recognising and encouraging young talent. ““Dream big. Strive for excellence. Make Telangana proud.” was the message that resonated throughout the event.

Brave Citizen Saves Two-Year-Old Girl, Honoured by Cyberabad Police Commissioner

“Cyberabad “24 Sept 2026“Indian Chronicle““Cyberabad Police Commissioner Dr. M. Ramesh felicitated Shashikumar for his courage and timely intervention in rescuing a two-year-old girl from an alleged sexual assault attempt and helping police apprehend the accused. “According to the information provided, the incident occurred on August 16, when Shashikumar, who was passing through the area, heard the child’s cries and immediately went to investigate. On noticing the child in danger, he intervened, rescued her and apprehended the alleged offender before handing him over to the police. “Recognising his presence of mind and humanitarian response, Commissioner Dr. M. Ramesh invited Shashikumar to Gangaram Lake and honoured him with a shawl. “The Commissioner praised Shashikumar for acting swiftly in a critical situation and protecting the child. He said such responsible intervention by citizens was commendable and stressed the importance of people responding promptly when they witness someone in danger. “Dr. Ramesh said Shashikumar’s courage, humanity and sense of social responsibility could serve as an inspiration to others. “The felicitation highlighted the importance of alert citizens working alongside law-enforcement agencies to protect vulnerable members of society and ensure public safety.

Mygate Introduces Safe Carpooling for Residential Communities

“Hyderabad: “As governments across India increasingly encourage shared mobility to reduce congestion, fuel consumption and emissions, Mygate, India’s leading community management platform, has introduced a new carpooling feature that enables residents to discover and coordinate shared rides with neighbours travelling along similar routes. “The launch comes in the wake of Prime Minister Narendra Modi’s recent appeal encouraging citizens to reduce fuel consumption through simple behavioural changes, including shared mobility. By enabling residents to carpool with people within their own residential communities, Mygate aims to support this broader effort while making shared commuting more accessible and practical. “The potential impact of community-led carpooling can be significant. With just 20% of Mygate’s 5.7 million residents signing up for Carpool, approximately 18.2 crore litres of fuel could be saved annually*. At current Bengaluru petrol prices, this represents potential fuel savings of approximately ₹2,020 crore a year, or around ₹17,700 per participating resident annually. “Unlike conventional carpooling platforms that connect strangers, Mygate enables ride-sharing exclusively among residents within the same community, providing a trusted and familiar environment for shared travel. “Mygate’s Carpool allows residents to create and discover shared rides based on their daily commute preferences. Residents can set up recurring rides, add their destination, specify the number of available seats, and include a customised message to share relevant details such as the car model, preferred pickup point, or any other information for fellow residents.

PhonePe announces big rural merchant expansion plans: To hire 20,000 additional on-roll sales employees in rural India and deploy 50 lakh+ payment devices

“Hyderabad: “PhonePe, today announced plans to accelerate the expansion of its merchant network and take digital payment infrastructure deeper into India’s towns and villages. “As part of the expansion, PhonePe plans to hire more than 20,000 frontline sales personnel on its rolls over the next year. The company will also deploy more than 50 lakh payment devices over the next 12 months, including SmartSpeakers and POS devices with approximately 50% of these devices in rural India, taking digital payment acceptance deeper into Tier 6 towns and rural geographies. “The recently announced MDR framework allows the company to take a long view and invest in merchant expansion. Initiatives like a dedicated fund using 5% of the MDR amount collected earmarked for small merchant expansion, are further catalysing these investments, especially in deep rural geographies including tier 6 towns and villages. The new labour codes introduced last year, are also enabling the company to hire faster with streamlined compliances, helping onboard a large on-roll employment workforce seamlessly “India has built one of the world’s largest digital payments ecosystems. The next phase of this journey will require continued investment in the merchant acceptance infrastructure that enables small businesses in every part of the country to participate in the digital economy. “PhonePe’s planned expansion is aimed at precisely this opportunity. A significantly larger frontline on roll workforce will enable PhonePe to reach merchants in smaller towns and villages, onboard them onto digital payments, complete KYC, deploy payment devices and provide ongoing merchant support.
