

Double-bedroom houses only for eligible locals: Talasani

“Indian chronicle, Secunderabad, September 05:” Former Minister and Sanath Nagar MLA Talasani Srinivas Yadav on Saturday assured residents that he would ensure that the remaining double-bedroom houses at Banda Maisamma Nagar in Bansilalpet were allotted only to eligible local beneficiaries. “Mr. Yadav visited the double-bedroom housing colony and interacted with residents to understand their problems. Some residents complained that electricity meters had not been installed in their houses. He immediately directed electricity officials to take necessary action. “Several others told him that they were yet to be allotted houses. Mr. Yadav said the previous BRS government, under then Chief Minister K. Chandrasekhar Rao, had constructed double-bedroom houses with basic amenities to provide better living conditions to the poor. He said some houses were still pending allotment and that he had written to the Collector seeking their allotment to eligible beneficiaries. “He assured the residents that steps would be taken to complete the allotment process at the earliest. “Residents also complained that shops in the colony had been auctioned without their knowledge. Mr. Yadav said the shops were constructed with the intention of using the rental income for maintenance of the colony. He said a meeting with the concerned officials would be convened shortly to resolve the issue. “Kavadiguda DC Pushpalatha, Electrical ADE Durga Prasad, Horticulture Officer Satyanarayana and BRS leaders Lakshmi pathi, Prem, Kumar Yadav, Faheem, Ranjith, Abbas, Vinay and Sai were present. “Congress government has betrayed people: Talasani” Former Minister and Sanath Nagar MLA Talasani Srinivas Yadav on Saturday accused the Congress government of betraying people by failing to implement the promises it made before the elections. “Participating in a protest organised at Jabbar Complex in Bansilalpet against what the BRS termed the Congress government's failures during its 1,000-day rule, Mr. Yadav said the BRS would continue to question the government both inside and outside the Assembly until all electoral promises were fulfilled. “He warned that the BRS would not spare the government and would continue to fight on behalf of the people. BRS leaders Prem, Arun Goud, Kumar Yadav, Rajender, Abbas, Ashok, Nagabhushanam and Deshapaka Srinivas were among those who participated in the protest.

TOMCOM Partnerships with Japan and Germany: Minister Vivek Outlines World-Class Opportunities for Telangana Youth

“High Demand in Japan for Engineers, Nurses and Bus Drivers: Minister Vivek “Expansion of Successful TOMCOM Model from Germany to Japan “Hyderabad: Minister for Energy and Mines Dr. G. Vivek Venkataswamy stated that the Congress government aims to provide world-class skills, better employment opportunities, and modern technological knowledge to the youth of Telangana. “Building on the success of the ongoing partnership with Germany through TOMCOM, the government is now extending similar opportunities to Japan. “The Minister said Japan is facing a shortage of human resources due to its aging population, creating high demand for engineers, polytechnic and ITI students, nurses, and drivers. “He informed that discussions during the recent visit to Japan provided valuable insights into the skills, language proficiency, and work culture required for overseas employment. “We are now extending the experience we gained with Germany to Japan,” the Minister said. “Dr. Vivek Venkataswamy noted that there is a requirement for approximately 10,000 bus drivers in Japan. The government will prepare Telangana youth by providing training in driving skills, the Japanese language, and local work culture. “He highlighted the strong university-industry linkage observed in Japan and said the government intends to implement a similar model in Telangana so that students are prepared for industry needs from the university level itself. “Discussions were held for a partnership between the Young India Skill University and the Hiroshima Institute of Technology covering student exchange programmes, train-the-trainer initiatives, research, AI, electronics, automation, and advanced manufacturing. “The Minister clarified that the current curriculum will continue, while new skills required for future sectors such as semiconductors, robotics, defense, and automation will be introduced. Students will have the option to choose the courses they need. “Training in modern skills is being provided through 119 Advanced Technology Centres (ATCs). The government has allocated 250 acres for ATCs and has no plan to sell educational institution lands. “He emphasised that for youth going abroad, technical skills alone are not enough. Understanding of language, culture, punctuality, and workplace discipline is equally important. “The Minister advised the youth to be vigilant against unscrupulous agencies that deceive people with false promises of overseas employment.

Teacher's Day Celebrations Held Grandly at Arenda ZPHS

“Manthani Peddapalli District, Sep 5(Indian Chronicle): Students should study with discipline and reach greater heights” – HM Narasimha Rao “Students should make the best use of teachers’ guidance” – CRP Mallaiah. “Teacher’s Day celebrations were held grandly on Saturday at Arenda Zilla Parishad High School (ZPHS) in Manthani mandal, marking the birth anniversary of former President and eminent educationist Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan. “School Headmaster Narasimha Rao garlanded the portrait of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan and formally inaugurated the programme. “Speaking on the occasion, HM Narasimha Rao said that teachers play a crucial role in shaping the future of students. The education, values and discipline imparted by teachers in the classroom have a lasting impact on students’ lives, he said. “He urged teachers to work with dedication and nurture good behaviour, responsibility and positive thinking among students along with academic knowledge. He particularly advised Class 10 students to study with special attention and strive to achieve good results for the school. “He also encouraged students to set their goals at an early age and work consistently towards achieving them. He said success does not come overnight and that disciplined study, following teachers’ guidance and making proper use of time can help students reach greater heights. “Narasimha Rao advised students to take the life of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan as an inspiration and develop humility along with knowledge. “CRP Mallaiah advised students to attend school regularly and listen carefully to the lessons taught by their teachers. He encouraged them to revise their lessons at home and clarify their doubts with teachers. “He said teachers’ guidance is extremely important in a student’s life and that students can achieve higher positions in the future by following their advice and working hard. He urged students to draw inspiration from great personalities such as Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan and grow into responsible citizens who contribute positively to society. “During the programme, the school management appreciated Srilatha, who had worked as a Telugu teacher at the school during the previous academic year, for her special commitment towards students’ education. Recognizing her dedication in attending school and teaching students for 16 days out of the 27 days of leave available to her, Headmaster Narasimha Rao felicitated her as the Best Teacher. “Later, students expressed their respect and gratitude towards their teachers by felicitating them and presenting them with small gifts brought with affection. They also conveyed their Teacher’s Day greetings. “Teachers, in turn, offered valuable suggestions to students regarding their academic development and future goals. “Teachers Suvatha, Mamatha, Padmaja, M.D. Ghiyasuddin, Srivani, Srilatha, Sahender, Aman and others participated in the programme.

EXEMPLARY STUDENT SELF-GOVERNANCE AND GRAND TEACHERS' DAY COMMEMORATION AT BRIGHT CONCEPT HIGH SCHOOL

P. S. ASHOKAN HYDERABAD “Bright Concept High School, situated in IDPL, Ranga Reddy Nagar, commemorated Teachers’ Day with profound intellectual rigor and vibrant student leadership. The annual observance honors the birth anniversary of Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan—former President of India, eminent philosopher, and legendary academic titan. “A distinguished highlight of the day was the Self-Governance Day initiative, wherein tenth-grade scholars assumed complete pedagogical and administrative custody of the institution. The senior students stepped into the roles of educators and administrators, delivering academic lectures across diverse grade levels, maintaining campus discipline, and supervising daily operational routines. During the post-activity reflection session, student-teachers articulated that executing classroom management conferred a profound appreciation for the pedagogical mastery, psychological resilience, and unwavering commitment required in the teaching vocation. “Addressing the assembly, Prinicipal and Correspondent Mr. Vinod Jadhav paid eloquent tributes to Dr. Radhakrishnan, exhorting both faculty and students to emulate his intellectual integrity and moral fortitude. Elucidating the statesman’s monumental achievements, Mr. Jadhav highlighted that Dr. Radhakrishnan was an internationally acclaimed polymath who served as Vice-Chancellor of Andhra University and Banaras Hindu University, as well as the prestigious Spalding Professor at the University of Oxford. His seminal publications, including Indian Philosophy, introduced Eastern philosophical frameworks to global academia. “Furthermore, Dr. Radhakrishnan spearheaded the landmark University Education Commission of 1948, laying the foundational architecture for post-independence higher education policy. Prior to his tenure as India’s inaugural Vice-President (1952–1962) and second President (1962–1967), he served as India’s Ambassador to the Soviet Union. Honored with the inaugural Bharat Ratna in 1954 and nominated multiple times for the Nobel Prize, his legacy persists through his request to dedicate his birth anniversary to honoring educators nationwide. “Mr. Vinod Jadhav underscored that true education transcends mere academic erudition to encompass ethical fortitude and character formation. He urged the student body to systematically assimilate core virtues of discipline, punctuality, cultural heritage, and unwavering patriotism—reiterating that youth constitute the primary architects of a sovereign nation. He stressed the imperative of demonstrating reverence toward parents, elders, mentors, and societal institutions. “The proceedings culminated in a solemn benediction ceremony where the faculty invoked blessings upon the students, followed by a felicitation segment during which Mr. Vinod Jadhav presented commemorative mementos and tokens of appreciation to the pedagogical and administrative staff. The convocation was attended by the Principal, Correspondent, School In-Charge, faculty members, and the entire student body.

They had brought various issues in the colony, including drainage, CC roads, streetlights and drinking water problems, to the notice of Sri Parameshwar Reddy. “During the Praja Palana-Basti Bata programme held in March, Sri Parameshwar Reddy visited Brahmapuri Colony, interacted with the residents and personally took note of their problems. He directed the concerned officials to take necessary steps to resolve the drainage, CC road, streetlight and drinking water issues in the colony.”

Teachers have key role in shaping future generations: Collector.

Karimnagar September 05 (Correspondent): Teachers should work with courage and commitment to strengthen the quality of education and help make Karimnagar a leading educational district in Telangana, Collector Chitra Mishra said on Saturday.

Addressing a Teachers’ Day programme organised by the Education Department at the Collectorate auditorium, Ms. Mishra described teachers as the “architects of future generations” and said the teaching profession had a special responsibility in shaping children’s knowledge, values and character.

School was a child’s second home and teachers should inculcate cleanliness, discipline and confidence in students alongside academic learning, she said. Recalling the contribution of her own teachers to her career, Ms. Mishra said she continued to remember them for helping her reach her present position.

She called for greater focus on Foundational Literacy and Numeracy (FLN) to improve students’ basic learning abilities. Detailed, mandal-wise reviews of school performance should be conducted, she said, adding that efforts would be made to mobilise additional Corporate Social Responsibility funds to improve school infrastructure.

The administration was providing necessary facilities in schools and teachers should ensure a pleasant learning environment for students, she said. She assured teachers that their genuine problems would be addressed and urged them to discharge their duties without fear and with commitment.

Mayor Kolagani Srinivas said teachers played a key role in bringing out students’ creativity and transforming ordinary individuals into achievers.

Municipal Commissioner Praful Desai said facilities were being improved in schools under the municipal limits and the modernised Science Museum would be inaugurated shortly.

DEO Chaitanya Jaini said several initiatives were being taken to improve students’ performance and lauded the contribution of teachers. District Library Chairman Sattu Mallesham said facilities were being provided to encourage reading among students.

Teachers who had rendered distinguished service in education were presented awards and felicitated at the programme.

He urged students to immediately inform the police if they noticed any suspicious drug-related activity. He also advised students to stay away from drugs and encourage their friends to do the same.” “He further advised girl students to seek assistance from nearby traffic police personnel whenever they face difficulties while crossing roads.” “Student Shares Cyber Fraud Experience” “Student Nikhil narrated an incident in which an unknown caller asked him to share an OTP. After he disclosed the OTP, ₹4,000 was debited from his bank account. He sought advice from the Commissioner on how to protect oneself from such cyber frauds.” “Responding to the student, Dr. Ramesh advised people to remain extremely cautious while dealing with calls from unknown persons. He said OTPs, bank account details, PINs, passwords and other personal or financial information should never be disclosed to strangers over the phone.” “He also advised victims of cyber fraud to contact the police immediately without delay and seek assistance at the earliest.

KTR attacks Revanth government over jobs, unfulfilled promises.

Karimnagar September 05 (Correspondent): BRS working president and former Minister K.T. Rama Rao on Saturday accused the Congress government in Telangana of failing to fulfil its promises to the youth and alleged that the State's administration had “gone off track”.

Addressing the BRS ‘Yuva Samar Bheri’ meeting in Karimnagar, Mr. Rama Rao alleged that the government had failed to honour its assurances to unemployed youth. He also alleged that young people were being subjected to suppressive measures when they raised demands for jobs.

Taking a swipe at the government's recruitment record, Mr. Rama Rao alleged that “notifications have disappeared while ‘lootifications’ are flourishing”.

Questioning Congress leader Rahul Gandhi, Mr. Rama Rao asked, “Rahul Gandhi, where are you? Why don't you come to Hyderabad?” He accused the Congress of misleading the youth by promising to provide two lakh jobs.

Mr. Rama Rao alleged that the Congress government had failed to implement the 420 promises made before coming to power. He accused the government of “inept governance” and alleged that its policies had left people in distress.

He demanded that Chief Minister A. Revanth Reddy resign if the government was unable to fulfil its electoral promises.

Mr. Rama Rao also said that the issue was not merely about the dismissal of an individual and predicted that the Congress government itself would be “dismissed” in the coming days.

Karimnagar MLA Gangula Kamalakar, former MP B. Vinod Kumar, BRS leaders, a large number of youngsters and representatives of student organisations attended the meeting.

Anjaneyulu Sagar Requests Installation of Streetlights

“Serilingampalli Zone: Responding to complaints from locals regarding the lack of streetlights in colonies within the Anjaiah Nagar division—specifically AnjaiahNagar, SiddiqNagar, RajivNagar, BanjaraNagar, and GulshanNagar—division leader Anjaneyulu Sagar met with Deputy Commissioner Balakrishna and submitted a formal representation.”

“He noted that previous complaints had led to the installation of streetlights in some areas, providing residents there with relief from the darkness.” “However, he pointed out that streetlights have yet to be installed in several other areas, leaving the colonies in darkness at night and causing severe difficulties for residents, particularly women and the elderly.” “He also highlighted that the darkness creates an environment conducive to anti-social activities.”

“He urged the Deputy Commissioner to take immediate steps to install streetlights in the remaining areas and ensure public safety.” “Responding positively to the representation, Deputy Commissioner Balakrishna assured that he would immediately instruct the concerned officials to initiate the installation of streetlights in the remaining areas.” “Leaders Suresh, Ramu Yadav, Rajender Reddy, Bheemudu, Santosh, Ramakrishna, Raju, and others participated in this event.”

Free Left Turn Should Be Provided for Vehicles Travelling from Nacharam to Uppal “Permanent Solution Needed for Traffic Problem at Habsiguda Junction

“— Uppal MLA Bandari Lakshma Reddy “Nacharam, September 5 (INDIAN CHRONICLE): “Uppal MLA Sri Bandari Lakshma Reddy has urged the authorities to immediately address the traffic problems faced by motorists travelling from Nacharam towards Uppal and provide a dedicated free left turn at Habsiguda Junction. “The MLA stated that a large number of vehicles travel daily from Nacharam towards Uppal and Tarnaka, resulting in severe traffic congestion at Habsiguda Junction. Motorists are reportedly forced to wait for around 10 to 12 minutes whenever the traffic signal turns red. The situation becomes particularly difficult during peak morning and evening hours, with traffic extending from Habsiguda up to HMT Nagar Kaman. “He pointed out that while vehicles travelling towards Tarnaka are regulated by the traffic signal, there is no dedicated free left for vehicles heading towards Uppal. As a result, Uppal-bound vehicles are also forced to wait for the signal, further increasing traffic congestion. “As a permanent solution to the problem, MLA Bandari Lakshma Reddy requested MMC Commissioner Sri Vinay Krishna Reddy to remove the old building obstructing the free-left passage at Habsiguda Junction, widen the road wherever necessary, and provide a dedicated free-left lane for vehicles travelling towards Uppal. “The MLA also stated that several free-left routes in different parts of the constituency have reportedly been encroached upon. He urged the authorities to inspect all free-left routes immediately, remove encroachments, and ensure that motorists can move freely without unnecessary traffic disruptions. “Responding positively to the MLA’s request, MMC Commissioner Sri Vinay Krishna Reddy assured that all free-left routes across the constituency would be inspected shortly and necessary measures would be taken to resolve the problems faced by motorists. “BRS state leaders Saizen Shekhar, Vitthal Yadav, Katta Buchanna Goud, Chandrashekar, Narasimha and others participated in the programme.”

Teachers’ Day Celebrations Held Grandly at JGR High School

“BODUPPAL, SEPTEMBER 5 (INDIAN CHRONICLE): Teachers’ Day celebrations were held grandly at JGR High School, a prominent educational institution in Boduppal, on Friday. As part of the celebrations, students took on the roles of teachers and conducted a self-governance programme. Later, the students shared their experiences of teaching. “School Correspondent J. Gangaraju said that teachers work like candles, dispelling the darkness of ignorance among students and lighting the lamp of knowledge. He said teachers work tirelessly to impart education as well as good values, while identifying and encouraging the talents of students. “He called upon every student to take Dr. Sarvepalli Radhakrishnan, who served the nation as a teacher, political leader and Vice-President, as an inspiration. He said Teachers’ Day is celebrated every year on September 5 to commemorate his birth anniversary. “He stressed that teachers guide students after their parents and said it is the responsibility of every student to respect and honour them. He noted that teachers play a vital role in shaping experts in every profession across the world. He extended his greetings to all teachers, stating that every teacher is a great teacher. “On the occasion, students honoured their teachers by presenting them with shawls and mementoes. Teachers Ramu, Nalini, Hema, Navaneetha, Asma, Fareena, Salma, Keerthana, Shirisha, Praneetha, Sucharji Vijayakumari and others participated in the programme.”

Spirituality and Environmental Protection Are Equally Important: MLA Bandari Lakshma Reddy

“Uppal, September 5 (Indian Chronicle): Uppal MLA Bandari Lakshma Reddy visited the Sri Sitaramulu Temple in Sitaram Colony under the Beerappagadda Division on Saturday. “The MLA visited the temple at the special invitation of local leader Palle Raj Kumar. Colony residents and local leaders accorded him a warm welcome on his arrival. “During his visit, Lakshma Reddy offered special prayers to Sri Sitaramachandra Swamy and received the temple’s sacred offerings. Later, as a symbol of environmental protection, he planted saplings on the temple premises. “Speaking on the occasion, the MLA called upon everyone to make environmental protection a personal responsibility along with spiritual devotion. He urged residents to plant and nurture saplings in front of their homes and in available open spaces to increase greenery in residential areas. Senior BRS leaders, colony representatives, members of the colony welfare association, temple organisers and devotees participated in the programme.”

Attempt to Murder by Setting Man on Fire After Pouring Petrol

“MEDIPALLY, SEPTEMBER 5 (Indian Chronicle): Medipally police have registered a case following an alleged attempt to murder a man by calling him to a house, pouring petrol on him and trying to set him on fire. According to police, Nimmala Satish (33), a resident of Muripirala village in Atmakur mandal of Yadadri Bhuvanagiri district, became acquainted with Srilatha Reddy around six years ago. Srilatha Reddy is currently residing with her husband Anjireddy in Laxminagar Colony, Parvathapur. On August 19, Srilatha Reddy allegedly called Satish several times and asked him to come to her house. Satish reached the house at around 7 p.m. Srilatha Reddy, her husband Anjireddy and Anjireddy's mother allegedly came outside. According to the complaint, Anjireddy poured a petrol-like liquid on Satish and kicked him, causing him to fall down the stairs. Anjireddy then allegedly threw a stone at him. Satish reportedly hid behind a car, but the stone struck and shattered the car's window. The complaint further states that Anjireddy again poured petrol on Satish and attempted to set him on fire with a matchstick. Satish suffered burns to his hands, face, back and neck, while the car also caught fire. Satish managed to escape from the spot and travelled to his native village on his motorcycle. With the help of his family members, he was initially taken to AIIMS Bibinagar, later shifted to Gandhi Hospital and subsequently treated at a private hospital in Jubilee Hills. Due to financial difficulties, he was admitted to Ajay Hospital in Bhuvanagiri on September 4 for further treatment. Satish told police that Srilatha Reddy had called him to the house with the intention of getting him killed and that Anjireddy attempted to murder him by pouring petrol on him and setting him on fire. Based on his complaint, Medipally police registered a case in Crime No. 1279/2026 under Sections 109, 3(5) and other relevant provisions of the Bharatiya Nyaya Sanhita (BNS). The investigation has been entrusted to SI Gosula Uday Bhaskar.

BRS intensifies campaign against Congress over unfulfilled promises “Hyderabad Correspondent, September 5 (Indian Chronicle): The Bharat Rashtra Samithi (BRS) stepped up its campaign against the Congress government on Saturday, staging a rally in Jubilee Hills to highlight what it termed the ruling party's failure to honour its election promises. The demonstration was led by BRS Jubilee Hills Assembly constituency contested candidate Maganti Sunitha Gopinath following a call given by BRS working president and former Minister KTR. Party workers marched from the BRS Jubilee Hills office to the Ambedkar statue, carrying “Baaki Cards” to highlight promises they alleged were still pending. Addressing the gathering, Sunitha Gopinath accused the Congress government of failing to fully implement several assurances made to voters and demanded immediate action on issues concerning students, youth, unemployed persons and poor families. She called for the release of pending fee reimbursement dues, announcement of a job calendar and recruitment to vacant posts. She also alleged that promises relating to employment for youth, scooters for girl students and implementation of the Youth Declaration had been ignored after the Congress came to power. The BRS leader further alleged that the benefits promised under the six guarantees were not reaching all eligible beneficiaries and urged the government to fulfil its electoral commitments and address public grievances without delay. She said the BRS would continue taking the government's alleged failures to the people and mount pressure for implementation of the promises. BRS leaders, workers and unemployed youth participated in the rally.

Coordination Meeting with Ganesh Festival Organisers

“UPPAL, SEPTEMBER 5 (INDIAN CHRONICLE): A coordination meeting with Ganesh festival organisers was held on Saturday at KKR Gardens in Uppal to discuss arrangements for the upcoming Ganesh celebrations. organisers discussed various aspects, including the installation of Ganesh idols, conduct of the nine-day festival celebrations, and immersion arrangements. The officials issued several instructions and necessary guidelines to the organisers to ensure that the Ganesh Navratri celebrations are conducted peacefully and smoothly. The officials also received and discussed the concerns and suggestions raised by the organisers regarding the conduct of the festivities. They stated that coordinated efforts by all departments would be made to ensure the successful and peaceful conduct of the Ganesh celebrations without giving scope for any untoward incidents.

CONGRESS GOVERNMENT REAFFIRMS UNWAVERING COMMITMENT TO WELFARE, SAYS AYILI PRASAD

“P. S. Ashokan “Hyderabad. “MANTHANI, SEPTEMBER 5, 2026: “The Congress government's avowed commitment to the welfare and socio-economic empowerment of the underprivileged found a poignant manifestation at Kakarlapalli village in Manthani mandal, where a newly constructed Indiramma house was inaugurated for Dobbala Sharada, a member of the family of the late Dobbala Chandraiah. “The house was sanctioned with the support and blessings of Telangana IT & Industries Minister Duddilla Sridhar Babu, marking yet another instance of the government's welfare-oriented initiatives reaching the doorstep of a deserving family. “Manthani Mandal Congress Party president Ayili Prasad, accompanied by the beneficiary's family members, participated in the housewarming ceremony and inaugurated the newly constructed residence. The occasion was marked by happiness and emotional gratification as the family entered their new home. “Addressing the gathering, Mr. Prasad asserted that the Congress government was steadfastly pursuing an inclusive and people-centric developmental agenda, with particular emphasis on extending social security and economic assistance to vulnerable sections of society. “He said the ultimate objective of a welfare-oriented government was to restore dignity, instil confidence and create a sense of security among economically disadvantaged families. Minister Duddilla Sridhar Babu, he added, had been making relentless efforts to accelerate the developmental trajectory of the Manthani constituency by mobilising substantial resources and pursuing several developmental and welfare initiatives. “Mr. Prasad issued a categorical appeal to beneficiaries of the Indiramma housing scheme not to succumb to demands for illegal payments or middlemen. “No beneficiary should pay even a single rupee as a bribe for securing an Indiramma house,” he said, adding that anyone facing harassment, undue pressure or demands for money could approach the Minister's camp office or contact him directly for redressal. “He cautioned people against being misled by rumours and misinformation and called upon them to remain steadfast in their support for Minister Sridhar Babu. The constituency, he said, was steadily advancing on the path of comprehensive development, with several more transformative initiatives expected in the days ahead. “Enumerating the welfare measures being implemented by the Congress government, Mr. Prasad referred to white ration cards, Indiramma houses, 200 units of free electricity, Aarogyasri health coverage of up to ₹10 lakh and the ₹2 lakh loan-waiver programme. These initiatives, he said, reflected the government's endeavour to provide a comprehensive social-security net and tangible economic relief to ordinary citizens. “He also lauded the Duddilla brothers for their continued accessibility to the people and for extending assistance to residents during times of distress, particularly in matters relating to healthcare and other pressing needs. “For Sharada's family, the housewarming ceremony represented far more than the inauguration of a physical structure. It marked the fulfilment of a long-cherished aspiration and the beginning of a more secure and dignified chapter in their lives. “The programme was attended by Market Committee Director Kanneboina Odelu, Social Media In-charge Arelli Kiran Goud, Deputy Sarpanch Akula Pratyusha Sai, former Market Committee Chairman Akula Kiran, senior leaders Mende Rajaiah and Nalli Laxman, and youth leaders Lakkam Ramesh, Akula Ranjith, Akula Naveen, Isampelli Mahender, Suthari Sadi, Dadi Odelu and Guntuku Mahender, besides several Congress leaders and local representatives.
